BACK HOME AND SAFE. Danny Pratt, three, who was lost in the woods near his Palmyra, Ill., home for eight hours, pats his dog Corky after he returned home from the hospital. Danny was found with his year-old collie dog lying on top of him trying to keep him warm and dry. Danny was taken to a hospital at nearby Carlinville, Ill., but returned home when an examination revealed no serious injury. He was bruised about the face and rain soaked.

5 Persons Hurt French Troops In Car Mishaps Over Weekend

Two Automobile-Train Collisions Reported by State Patrol and Police

Five persons were injured in city and county accidents over the weekend. Police reported four minor injuries and nine accidents, while the Marion post of the state highway patrol reported one injury in three mishaps.

Two of the accidents were train-auto collisions.

Two persons in an automobile escaped injury at 10:10 p.m. Sunday when a 15-car New York Central passenger train struck the car at a crossing in Martel.

Louis E. Butts, 25, of Mansfield was driving on the crossing when he saw the train approaching and stopped. His car stalled when he tried to back up. Butts and an unidentified passenger jumped out of the car and ran to safety. The train, bound from Bellefontaine to Cleveland, sheered off the front end of the car, and was delayed 50 minutes as a result. Thirty-five passengers on the train were unhurt.

Three Marion men escaped injury at 9:55 a.m. today when an automobile and an eastbound freight train collided on the New York Central tracks at an alley east of N. State St.

Pearson Doubtful Canada Preparing To OK Red China

WINDSOR, Ont. (U-P)—Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson said today he doubts Canada has any plans for immediate recognition of Communist China.

Away from his office since Friday, he said in an interview:

"As far as I am aware, Canada's position toward the Chinese government is exactly the same as it was when I left Ottawa."

That was Pearson's comment on a report by informed sources in the Canadian capital yesterday that Canada would be prepared to give serious thought to recognizing the Peiping regime if the Geneva Conference on Korea and Indochina makes progress.

Father Shoots Daughter Deshler Slaying Follows Family Quarrel Over TV

NAPOLÉON, Ohio (U-P)—A family quarrel triggered by an argument over children watching television led to the fatal shooting of a 15-year-old girl last night and wounding of three other persons.

A 36-year-old 140-pound truck driver faced a first-degree murder charge after telling a sheriff from his hospital bed "When you kill your own daughter, you don't get away with it."

George Wolfe is accused of slaying his 15-year-old daughter, Lucille, wounding his wife and son, George Jr., 10, then shooting himself in a rampage of gunfire at their nearby Deshler home last night.

"My wife and I couldn't get along, always quarreling... neighbor kids always over watching television and she paid more attention to them than to me or our own kids..." Sheriff Fred H. Bartells of Henry County quoted Wolfe as telling him at the hospital today.

Wolfe now is off the critical list at Heller Memorial Hospital here. His wife, shot in the chest, is in a critical condition at Blanchard Valley Hospital in Findlay. George Jr., also in Findlay Hospital, was not wounded seriously. He was shot in the thigh.

Sheriff Bartells said Wolfe told him:

"I told her last night 'I'm getting disgusted, I'm going to shoot you,' and she said 'go ahead, shoot me!'" Wolfe told the sheriff he then went into a storeroom near the kitchen, got a .32 caliber pistol, came back and started shooting. The wife was shot first, but Wolfe said he did not remember who he shot next.

Sheriff Bartells quoted Wolfe as

Senate Fight Opens on Tax Revision Bill

Democrats Plugging For $200 Increase in Personal Exemptions

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Sen. Hill (D-Ala.) said today that "prospects are favorable" for Senate adoption of a proposed $200 increase in personal exemptions for individual income taxpayers.

But Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) of the Senate Finance Committee, which will consider a House-approved tax revision bill, said he wasn't conceding anything on this score.

Administration forces last week defeated, 210-204, an attempt by House Democrats to tack a $100 exemption increase on the general revision bill.

Douglas Trying Again

And another tax-cutting effort by a Democrat was announced last night by Sen. Douglas of Illinois. He said he will try to write 382 million dollars more reductions into the excise tax bill now in the Senate.

He said on the Meet Your Congress television program he proposes reductions on "necessities and nonluxuries." He said the cuts he advocates could mean a $30 price reduction on automobiles and about $25 on such appliances as refrigerators.

Douglas asserted that "the Republican program will not cure the deepening recession."

He said the big tax revision bill now in the hands of the Senate Finance Committee "gives the average taxpayer a $6 a year reduction in his tax load, while slicing $1,700 a year from the taxes paid by the average stock owner making more than $10,000 annually."

Raps Douglas

Rep. Kean (R-N.J.) on the same program said he knew of no one who had caused more jobs to be lost than had Douglas "through his preaching of gloom all the time" and Rep. Carl Curtis (R-Nebr.) said the Illinois senator was spreading "fear psychology."

But Douglas insisted he is merely "reporting the facts." The income tax fight now centers on a proposal by Sen. George (D-Ga.) to lift the present exemption allowed for each taxpayer and dependent from $600 to $800 in the next year and $900 thereafter as a means of increasing consumer purchasing power. Each $100 increase is estimated to cost the government $2,400,000,000 yearly in revenue.

Under a statement that will be charged in the House-approved bill, "taxpayers in the middle and low income brackets are almost completely ignored in the way of tax relief." Almost all the tax benefits granted by the bill, he said, go to corporations and corporation stockholders.

Mid-Air Crash Near Dayton Kills 2 Airmen

DAYTON, Ohio (U-P)—Two fliers were killed when their jet trainer crashed after hitting a Navy plane in the air near Dayton yesterday.

But the Navy pilot—knocked out, both legs broken and thrown from his plane by the collision—came to and opened his parachute in time to save his life.

Capt. Fred F. Siegmund Jr., 30, and 1st Lt. John W. Plasse, 29, both stationed at Craig Air Force Base near Selma, Ala., were killed in the crash of the T33 jet trainer.

Their plane broke through clouds at 3,000 feet and crashed into a Corsair fighter, piloted by Lt. (J.G.) John D. Turner, 26, Columbus, a naval reserve flier.

Turner said he was knocked out by the collision, thrown from his plane, but came to in time to pull his parachute ripcord. His legs were broken and one was amputated at the nearby Wright-Patterson Air Force Base hospital. Doctors believed his legs were broken in the collision and not in the parachute landing.

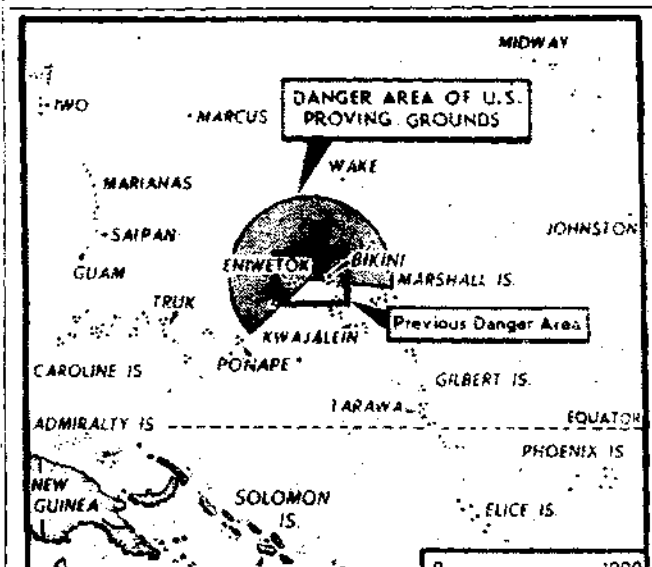

Turner, an aeronautical engineering student at Ohio State University, was piloting one of five Corsairs on a routine training flight from Port Columbus. The T33, was based from Selfridge Air Force Base near Mount Clemens, Mich., to Wright-Patterson.

Air Force officials theorized ice formed on the jet's canopy in a sudden descent, obscuring the pilot's vision.

First One in 6 Years Elswick's Murder Trial Slated To Open Tuesday

Bert Elswick, 37-year-old Marionite, is scheduled to go on trial for his life Tuesday morning. He will be tried for first degree murder after confessing to the Dec. 5 slaying of his 31-year-old wife, Violet, during an argument at the Green Camp village dump. They had gone there in search of a bottle of wine they had hidden there earlier, he said in his confession.

Rep. Kean (R-N.J.) on the same program said he knew of no one who had caused more jobs to be lost than had Douglas "through his preaching of gloom all the time" and Rep. Carl Curtis (R-Nebr.) said the Illinois senator was spreading "fear psychology."

Senate GOP Chiefs Speak Out on Issues

Subcommittee Plans Meeting Tomorrow; Lie Detector Proposed

BY JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Sentiment appeared to be building up among Senate Republican leaders today that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) should step all the way off his investigations subcommittee while it looks into his controversy with the Army.

From McCarthy came announcement of a tentative decision not to do so and a suggestion that the committee employ lie detectors to get at the truth of his controversy with Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens.

Hearing Date Not Set

The subcommittee plans to meet tomorrow to discuss procedure for its hearings, no date for which has been fixed.

McCarthy, voicing "complete confidence in this scientific instrument when it is operated properly," said he will suggest then the use of lie detectors if all the witnesses agree. He plans to testify himself.

"The American public is entitled to the truth in the matters we are about to investigate in Washington," the senator said in a statement. "... I plan to recommend to the subcommittee... that it ask all witnesses who may have knowledge of this case, including myself, whether they would be willing to submit to a scientific lie detector test..."

Knowland's View

"It is up to the full subcommittee to determine whether this is proper procedure," Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, said in an interview. He doesn't want to interfere in the committee's functions, but

Marion Ward Store Entered

Safecracking Attempt Fails; Nickels Stolen

A break-in and attempted safecracking at the Montgomery and Ward Store on W. Center St. was reported to Marion police at 8:25 a.m. today. An employee entering the store discovered the break-in and made the report.

Police investigation showed entrance was gained by prying open a lid to a coal chute, dropping some 14 feet into the coal bin, pounding out some bricks next to a locked steel fire door with a large steel bar, and reaching through the hole to unlock the door.

The office was entered and a hammer and various other tools were apparently used to pound at the combination dial and handle on a safe in an unsuccessful attempt to open it. The lock of the safe was damaged to the point it could not be unlocked today.

Failing in this the burglars—police believe there were two or more—went on to pry open the door of a soft drink vending machine and scooped out an undetermined amount of nickels.

Police Captain Justin Cornely said "It appears to be the work of amateurs."

Store officials were making an audit of merchandise today to determine if anything else was taken from the store.

Mt. Suribachi 'Retaken' By Marines in Maneuvers

TWO JIMA (U-P)—American Marines today "recaptured" historic Mt. Suribachi as air, sea and land forces practiced the United States Pacific Sunday punch.

Gen. John C. Hull, U.N. Far East commander, stood atop the rocky summit as Marines clambered up during the second day of "Operation Flag Hoist"—the biggest amphibious maneuver in the west Pacific since World War II.

An estimated 32,000 "friendly" and "aggressor" troops and sailors are taking part in the exercise on volcanic Jima, which fell to the Marines nine years ago.

Chavez Ouster Move Due for Vote in Senate

New Mexico Election Probed; Ballot Could Give GOP a Majority

WASHINGTON (U-P)—The Senate opens debate today on whether to ouster Sen. Chavez (D-NM). A vote, expected to follow closely party lines, is possible tomorrow.

There were no advance signs of a break in the ranks of the Democrats, who hold a hairline margin in the Senate, and one Republican said some GOP senators might not vote to put Chavez out.

The issue is a recommendation by the Senate Rules Committee that Chavez' seat be declared vacant. The five Republicans on the committee outvoted the four Democrats to adopt a subcommittee's finding that the 1952 senatorial election in New Mexico was marked by irregularities on such a scale it was impossible to tell who really won, Chavez or his Republican opponent, Patrick J. Hurley.

New Mexico has a Republican governor who, if Chavez were ousted, could reverse the present close division of the Senate by appointing a Republican senator. The lineup now is 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans and 1 Independent.

The investigating subcommittee made no charge against Chavez' personal integrity. In a minority report, Sen. Hennings of Missouri, only Democrat on the subcommittee, hotly defended Chavez and accused the majority of proceeding with "the apparent intent from the start to disfranchise the voters... and to deprive a duly elected United States senator of his seat."

Vaccinations Successful For Newly-Born Infants

BY ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

CLEVELAND (U-P)—Vaccinating babies minutes after they're born is safe, effective insurance against dangerous whooping cough and diphtheria, a family doctor finds.

The shots in the arm against these diseases usually aren't started until babies are three to six months old or more.

But Dr. Herbert D. Chamberlain, McArthur, Ohio, told today of good results from giving them as immediate birthday shots as part of the routine treatment of newborn babies.

Of 717 babies treated this way since 1948, not one has had whooping cough or diphtheria, even when other children in the family contracted these diseases, he says in an exhibit for the American Academy of General Practice.

Between 1943 and 1948 in his rural practice in Vinton County,

Soviet Russia Sends Protest Note to Greece

Claims Pact Defense Plans Present Threat To Peace in Balkans

MOSCOW (U-P)—The Soviet government has protested formally for the third time within a week against defense plans of a North Atlantic Pact nation.

The latest Kremlin note went yesterday to Greece, charging that U. S. military bases on Greek territory threaten peace in the Balkans.

Russia protested to the Netherlands last Thursday against establishment of a U. S. military air base on Dutch territory and also to Turkey against the mutual security pact she is negotiating with Pakistan.

The note to Greece was the second the Soviets have written on the subject. A similar communication Oct. 26 charged that use of Greek territory for American bases showed "the Greek government has started to carry out measures for direct preparation of a new war."

The latest note, handed yesterday by Deputy Foreign Minister V. A. Zorin to Greek Ambassador A. Kontoumas, said: "It is clear that the conclusion of the military agreement between Greece and the U.S.A. creates obstacles to strengthening peace in the Balkans, with which the Soviet Union cannot but reckon..."

"It is known from published data that on the territory of Greece big military maneuvers with participation of foreign forces, in-

Study of School Needs To Open

Group Representatives Will Meet at Harding

Approximately 75 students, parents, teachers and group representatives are expected to attend the March meeting of the Curriculum Coordinating Council today at 7:30 p.m. in the Harding High School speech room.

Representatives from about 20 Marion civic, service and patriotic groups have been invited, Harold Edwards, Marion City Schools director of instruction, said. Other groups are urged to send representatives.

Actual study of school needs in Marion will begin tonight. The first meeting, in January, set up study areas and there was no February meeting.

After welcoming new members the council will be split up to study school needs in six areas: 1. Evaluating, grading and reporting to parents; 2. Guidance; 3. School system philosophy; 4. Instructional supplies; 5. Instructional program study and 6. Vertical and horizontal articulation and coordination. The latter area deals with having teachers know what other teachers are doing.

Council members will return to their study areas at each monthly meeting until recommendations can be made for improving the school program.

separated for about three weeks prior to the time they began living with Baker about a week before the slaying.

They were living with Baker because they had been asked earlier to leave an apartment they were sharing in Marion, he said. According to Elswick's confession, the argument which led to the murder was over getting another apartment.

His wife struck him in the nose and he grabbed her by the throat, Elswick said. Then she slumped to the ground, Elswick said, and he discovered she had stopped breathing. He said in his confession that he sat there and drank some more wine while thinking what to do. He claims he cannot remember anything after that.

Motor Scooter Drivers Must Have Licenses

Arrest of a Marion youth over the weekend on a charge of operating a motor scooter without a driver's license brought forth a warning from Police Chief Thomas Coon today.

The 16-year-old youth was cited to appear in Marion County Juvenile Court Tuesday on the charge.

Police have received several complaints the last few days of youths operating motor scooters and motor bikes without licenses, Coon said.

Under Ohio law everyone riding such a vehicle must have either a driver's license or a restricted driver's license. The restricted license is issued directly from Columbus and is limited to the use of persons between 14 and 16, he said. He added that application for such a license does not necessarily mean it will be granted.

ORDERED FROM CITY

Two men were given their choice of leaving town or paying fines of $25 and costs each in Marion Municipal Court this morning. Harold W. Myers, 35, who gave no home address, and James L. Gresham, 19, of near Eagle Springs, N.C., were arrested and charged with being suspicious persons by city police at 1:09 p.m. Saturday on Kenton Ave. Both agreed to leave town immediately.

saying: "I shouldn't have shot the kids, I'm done anyway. When you kill your own daughter you don't get away with it."

The sheriff said when he went to the house he found the gun in the attic above the kitchen where it appeared to have been tossed through an opening in the ceiling. Several discharged cartridges were found in a coal-burning stove in the Wolfe kitchen.

Bartels said first degree murder charges would be filed against Wolfe, but that he would consult with the county prosecutor before filing. Coroner Thomas Quinn also is investigating. He has not given a verdict in the girl's death.

The shooting took place about 10:30 p.m. The mother, after she was shot, ran to a neighbor's home. The neighbor called an ambulance, and when it arrived attendants found the father and the children on the floor of the living room.

Deshler is a village of about 1,500 persons in the southeastern corner of Henry County.

he thinks McCarthy should volunteer not to question witnesses nor to vote on issues before the group. McCarthy has said he plans not to vote "on any final decisions or conclusions of the subcommittee."

Knowland said in an interview: "Since the senator has agreed to be sworn and to testify as a witness, I would think the procedure would be for him to voluntarily step aside and not attempt to participate in the questioning of other witnesses."

On the other hand, Sen. Potter (R-Mich.), a member of McCarthy's subcommittee, said he for one isn't going to insist that McCarthy give up his place as a committee member, even temporarily, if the Wisconsin senator chooses another course. Besides McCarthy, the group includes three Republicans and three Democrats.

Potter Sides With Knowland

Potter's Michigan colleague, Sen. Ferguson, took a position similar to Knowland's. Ferguson, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, was asked on a CBS television program yesterday whether he thinks McCarthy should step off the subcommittee for the duration of this inquiry.

"I do," Ferguson replied. "I feel that under the circumstances where his subcommittee is going to make this investigation in relation to the personnel of the subcommittee that he should excuse himself as is usually done in courts by judges that have anything to do with the matters before them."

McCarthy said in a statement yesterday he had agreed with Sen. Mundt (R-SD), who will preside over the hearings, that he should not vote in any question pertaining to the investigation.

"I shall be a witness," he added. "and I do wish to cross examine other witnesses. In all fairness, I feel this right of cross examination should be extended to the Army officials involved . . ."

Democrats Object

That was his reaction to a Democratic suggestion that he step off the subcommittee. It was made Saturday night by a subcommittee member, Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), who said in a statement that it McCarthy wants to "appear in the triple role of accusing witness as well as prosecutor and judge" the Democrats will carry a fight against such an arrangement to the parent government operations committee.

McCarthy also heads the full committee.

Symington said that if McCarthy doesn't step aside as a voting and cross-examining member and is upheld in this role, he will attempt to shift the inquiry to the Senate Armed Services Committee. He is a member of this group; McCarthy is not.

The McCarthy-Army dispute focuses around Secretary Stevens' assertion that McCarthy and his subcommittee chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn, sought favored Army treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine. Schine was an unpaid consultant to the committee before being drafted.

Schine Alleged 'Hostage'

Cohn disputed that. He and McCarthy joined in accusing Stevens and his aides of trying to "blackmail" the subcommittee into dropping its inquiry into alleged communism in the Army by using Schine as a "hostage. Stevens termed this "fantastic."

Taking note of this in his statement about lie detectors, McCarthy said the issue is "certainly more important than any murder case which, as a (Wisconsin state) judge, I ever tried."

He added that use of a lie detector, which records the physical reaction of a person to questioning, would be possible only if all prospective witnesses were willing. "And I hope they will be," he added.

Reliability Questioned

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has questioned the reliability of lie detectors, and tests made with them are not admissible as evidence in the courts of any state unless they were made voluntarily.

He was arrested by state patrolmen from the Marion post Saturday night on charges of following a car too closely and throwing refuse from a motor vehicle. The refuse was beer bottles, patrolmen discovered, and the third charge was filed. Three minor children were passengers in the car.

Taken to Juvenile Court, he was fined $25 and costs and given a suspended 10-day sentence on the charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors. He was unable to pay the fines and was committed to jail.

Justice Douglas Continues Hike To Washington

ALONG THE C&O CANAL IN WESTERN MARYLAND — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas and a steadily dwindling party of hiking companions pushed forward today on their 184-mile walk to Washington, D. C.

At the end of their third day's journey lay Fort Frederick State Park and the only night of camping in the open the party plans before its scheduled arrival in Washington Saturday.

The group spent last night at the Woodmont Rod and Gun Club near Hancock, Md., 37 miles southeast of Cumberland, Md. where they started out Saturday morning.

Douglas is seeking to demonstrate to two Washington editorial writers, and others who joined the group, that the natural beauties of the government-owned Chesapeake and Ohio Canal would be marred by construction of a proposed federal highway.

His challenge to the editorial writers, who favored the parkway, resulted in the eight-day journey.

In the first day of slogging over muddy trails, and in yesterday's blustery weather which included even a few snow flurries, the expedition shrank from 34 to about 25 who planned to continue today's leg of about 20 miles.

The walking pace also slowed from an average of a little over four miles an hour the first day to three miles an hour yesterday. Liniment was being liberally applied to sore muscles last night.

Most of the nine who quit the party though were newsmen, government officials and others who had to get back to other assignments or their regular Monday jobs.

The rugged justice, who relishes outdoor life, showed little sign of fatigue. Charles P. Thomas, the 78-year-old retired mailcarrier from Washington and oldest man in the group, also was going strong.

Children Will Like Corn Bread Liver Patties

Because liver is a particularly good meat for growing children, mothers should prepare it as attractively as possible to encourage them to eat it.

This recipe for corn bread liver patties does just that. They require only 20 to 25 minutes baking time and are quick to prepare.

Use:
1½ pounds liver
2 cups corn bread crumbs
¼ cup grated onion
4 tablespoons bacon drippings
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon salt

bacon slices
¾ teaspoon powdered sage or ¼ teaspoon marjoram
Prepare liver by wiping with a damp cloth; cover with boiling water and allow it to stand for five minutes. Remove the liver and run it through food grinder using fine blade.

Combine with corn bread crumbs, grated onion, bacon drippings, sage or marjoram, salt and pepper, adding meat broth or hot water to moisten if needed. Shape into thick patties.

Wrap with bacon slices and fasten ends with a toothpick. Bake at 400F. 20 to 25 minutes or until bacon is crisp.

Mohawks Nip Barons Twice To End Playoff Series

Marion Loses 4-1 at Home; Defeated 3-1 in Road Game

The Cincinnati Mohawks walked off with a pair of wins over the Marion Barons over the weekend to nail down series A in the Turner Cup playoffs.

The Mohawks, winners of the regular International Hockey League race, bumped the Barons 4-1 Saturday night at the Coliseum to go ahead 3-1 in the best of seven series. Sunday at the Cincinnati Gardens, they clipped the Marion entry 3-1 for the deciding win.

The weekend losses wound up the Marion hockey club's first season. The Mohawks will now meet the winner of the Johnstown-Toledo best-of-three series in a best-of-seven set for the cup.

During the Saturday night game 1,487 fans, watched the Barons drop behind 2-0 in the first stanza when they appeared more interested in fracturing the Mohawks. But Smith in particular, than winning a hockey game.

2-Goal Spurt

The teams battled to a draw for the first 10 minutes with the Barons holding a 13-6 edge in penalty minutes before the high-flying Hawks broke loose for a pair of goals within 22 seconds.

Art Rose belted in the first score after 10:54 had passed. It was his second goal of the play-offs. Kenny Biggs had passed to Mickey Keating across the rink and he shot for the net from the point. Rose got a stick on the puck to deflect it past Goale Lou Crowdis. Before the Barons knew what was happening, the same Rose had poked-checked the puck away and skated toward the Marion goal. Crowdis was pulled to the left side to set up a pass to Biggs on the other side of the net. The Barons' goal tender was unable to shift back into position. That goal came at the 11:16 mark.

During the opening period, a total of 31 minutes were charged in penalties. Marion players spent 18 minutes in the box, including a pair of five-minute infractions for fighting.

With slightly more than three minutes gone in the second period, Connie Broden added an insurance tally for Cincinnati. Butch Mackay relayed the puck to Broden at his blue line and the Mohawk rightwinger went all the way. His shot, from about 10 feet out and shoulder high, went into the net when Crowdis' lunge missed.

Defenseman Ted Leboda, who spent only two minutes in the penalty box, despite the roughhouse tactics of the Barons, scored Marion's only score after 10:36 had passed in the second stanza. Dutch Delmonte had fired a shot at the net but Charley Hodge kicked it away and Ott Heller picked up the rebound passing to Leboda. His shot from the point went through a screen of players and was missed by Hodge. Delmonte and Heller were credited with assists.

During that second stanza, Crowdis was forced to bat away 12 shots from the hard-shooting Mohawk forwards. Hodge handled nine Barons attempts.

Defensive Play

At the start of the third and final period, the Barons apparently decided to abandon their plans for wrecking the Mohawks who had stood up under the belting, and devote their attention to playing hockey. The Hawks shifted into a defensive brand of play to seal the verdict.

The Cincinnati visitors were outplayed in that frame despite the fact they added another goal while shutting out Marion. Bill Pawchuk ended the scoring when he took a pass from Broden at the blue line and went in on Crowdis. He shot from about 10 feet directly in front of the net and another shoulder-high blast flew by the Marion net tender.

Crowdis managed to knock out 10 Cincinnati attempts during the final period to eight saves for Hodge. During the game, Crowdis had a 30-23 edge in saves.

During the Saturday night game, Marion fans saw their first penalty shot of the season. Delmonte was deliberately tripped by a Mohawk defender after he had broken into the clear on a break-away.

He was tripped from behind as a defender tried to stop a clear shot on the goal. Referee Len

Basketball Committee Studying Controversial One-One Option

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Collegiate basketball's top rulemaking body juggled three main ideas yesterday in an effort to find a feasible substitute for one of the games most controversial subjects — the one-and-one free throw rule.

Under this rule, a player who has been fouled is given 2 chances to make a single free throw during the first 37 minutes of the game. All fouls in the final 3 minutes call for two shots.

The national basketball committee spent a lengthy session on the subject yesterday and planned further discussion today.

The committee narrowed various suggestions to three main ideas. The three possible substitutes are:

1. If the first shot is made, a second free throw is given; but if the first shot is missed the ball is in play. This would apply during the entire game.
2. A bonus shot if the first free throw is made during the first 37 minutes of the game; two shots during the final three minutes as under present rules.
3. One free throw throughout the game. If the shot is made, the ball would be given out of bounds to the offended team; if shot is missed the ball would go in play.

Bubbi Scholz, Germany's undefeated middleweight contender, makes his U.S. debut Friday night against Al Andrews, the ex-Marine from Superior, Wis., at Madison Square Garden. ABC will broadcast and NBC will telecast the 10 p.m., EST 10 rounder.

Brooklyn's Carmine Fiore aims for his seventh straight victory when he takes on scrappy Italo Scorticini of Italy in a welterweight 10 at the Syracuse War Memorial Auditorium Saturday night.

4 Newcomers in Struggle For Ohio Basketball Title

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—With 1,060 teams sitting on the sidelines, eight surviving quintets were all set today to go after Ohio's high school basketball championships Friday and Saturday in Cleveland arena.

The four Class A and four Class B squads drew yesterday for first round foes, and here's the Friday schedule:

CLASS B

1:30 p.m.—New Lexington St. Aloysius (22-4) vs Westmont (26-1); 3 p.m.—Copley (25-0) vs Delphos St. John (27-4). Finals at 2 p.m. Saturday.

CLASS A

7:30 p.m.—Hamilton Public (23-3) vs Canton McKinley (20-3); 9 p.m.—Columbus South (21-4) vs Kent Roosevelt (22-4). Finals 8 p.m. Saturday.

Of that group New Lexington St. Aloysius, Westmont, Copley and Kent Roosevelt will make their first appearances in a state tournament.

Hamilton, Class A winner in 1937 and 1949, is in for the 10th time. Canton McKinley for the 15th, and Columbus South for the fourth. McKinley, in 4 trips to the championship contest, has been beaten 4 times, and Columbus South has never gone beyond the second round.

Delphos St. John, only tournament-tested team in Class B and the 1949 champion, is making its fifth bid.

This year's title cast is entirely new, none of the qualifiers having appeared in 1953 or 1952. In 1951 Canton McKinley and Hamilton drew as first round opponents, as they did this time, and Hamilton was a 48-40 victor.

Tournament notes.

Bob Fowle, New Lexington St. Aloysius coach, probably is the most traveled mentor in the state. He lives in Columbus, and commutes—a 110-mile round trip daily.

All the coaches are Ohio tramps. Fowle attended Ohio State University, as did Warren Scholler of Hamilton, Harold Andrews of Kent Roosevelt is from Kent State, Herman (Bup) Reierick of Canton McKinley from Wittenberg, George (Pug) Hood of Columbus South South from Ohio U., Bob Arzen of Delphos St. John from Dayton, Ken Bateman of Copley from Akron, and Glenn Harter of Westmont from Capital.

New Lexington, Copley, Hamilton and Columbus South will wear white uniforms for Friday's games—the others dark ones.

Of the 8 qualifiers, only 2 have met this season. Columbus South was a 68-67 victor over Hamilton Public during the regular campaign.

Each of the competing schools was awarded 1,250 tickets for the first games, to be sold to students for $1 and to outsiders for $1.50. The Arena holds about 4,000.

Nardico Meets Norkus in Top Ring Attraction

NEW YORK — Heavyweight Charley Norkus and light heavyweight contender Danny Nardico, who staged a "war" in their first meeting two months ago, will have it out again in Miami Beach Wednesday night.

Their scheduled 10 rounder (10 p.m., EST) will be telecast by CBS from the Miami Beach Auditorium. The first one, in which Norkus, a 197-pounder from Bayonne, N. J., stopped Nardico in the ninth round, was not telecast.

Norkus knocked down the 181-pound Tampa slugger six times but was dropped twice himself before winning the bloody brawl on a technical knockout.

Cuba's Orlando Zulueta, two-time conqueror of lightweight champion Paddy DeMarco, returns to action tonight against Dennis Pat Brady of New York at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena. Starting time for the 10 rounder is 10 p.m., EST. Dumont will telecast.

Bubbi Scholz, Germany's undefeated middleweight contender, makes his U.S. debut Friday night against Al Andrews, the ex-Marine from Superior, Wis., at Madison Square Garden. ABC will broadcast and NBC will telecast the 10 p.m., EST 10 rounder.

Brooklyn's Carmine Fiore aims for his seventh straight victory when he takes on scrappy Italo Scorticini of Italy in a welterweight 10 at the Syracuse War Memorial Auditorium Saturday night.

Braves-Cubs Swap May Aid Players

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — The trade which sent Milwaukee Braves relief pitcher Dave Cole and an undisclosed amount of cash to the Chicago Cubs yesterday in return for shortstop Roy Smalley is a break for both players.

Cole, leaving a club having plenty of moundmen, will have a better chance as a starting pitcher with Chicago. The trade enables Smalley to leave Wrigley Field, where fans have been riding him for two seasons.

"We consider Cole a good prospect," said Manager Phil Cavarretta of the Cubs at Yuma, Ariz. "With more chance to work as a member of our staff we hope his control will improve. That's all he may need to become a winner because he has a lot of stuff."

Braves Manager Charlie Grimm, who handled the Cubs in 1949 when Smalley arrived in Chicago thinks the change will be good for Smalley.

He has all the tools," said Grimm. "I think all he needs is the proper encouragement in a new environment. Lots of times a change of scenery is all a ball-player has to have to realize his potentialities."

Cole said he was "so tickled I don't know what to do."

Cole, 23, a right-hander from Williamsport, Md., had an 0-1 record with the Braves last year. A bullpen regular, he has pitched in only 136 innings since he broke into the major leagues in 1950 with the Braves.

Smalley, 27, hit 21 homers and led the National League in fielding in 1950, but then ran into three poor seasons. He broke an ankle in 1951. He was hit in the head and suffered from an elbow injury in 1952. Last spring he turned an ankle. He could hardly poke his head out of the dugout last season without drawing boos from Chicago fans.

About 95 per cent of operations to relieve cataract eye clouding are successful.

Miami Basketball Mentor
To Address Prexy Dinner

William D. Rohr, 35-year-old Miami University basketball coach who is main speaker for the Harding High School Tuesday, is one of the outstanding coaches in the nation.

His cage quintets have won 48 of 70 games in his three years at Miami against tough foes of the Mid-American Conference and highly ranked intersectional squads.

His Miami teams have won a pair of Mid-American Conference titles and he has been named Ohio Coach of the Year twice.

Rohr's record at Miami slumped to 12-10 this year in the wake of tremendous height handicaps, but the Redskins downed Bowling Green and Dayton as well as Cincinnati. The Falcons and Flyers were participants in the National Invitational Basketball Tournament this year and Cincinnati had just handed highly-regarded Duquesne its first loss of the campaign after 22 straight wins prior to bumping into Miami.

Prior to taking over coaching duties at Miami, Rohr guided his Portsmouth High School cage teams to 82 wins in 111 starts in five years and three district titles. He went to Miami in September, 1951.

Rohr, a native of Massillon, was an All-Ohio basketball player at Massillon High under Paul Brown, now coach of the Cleveland Browns, and All-Buckeye Conference guard at Ohio Wesleyan. Graduating there in 1940, he returned to Massillon as Brown's assistant and eventually took over basketball duties briefly before entering the Air Force in 1942.

He returned to Massillon for the remainder of the school year after completing his Air Force service early in 1946 as a first lieutenant and went to Portsmouth in September, 1946 as basketball coach, later adding the title of athletic director the following summer.

Rohr is married to the former Mary Ellen Studer of Massillon, who was athletic department secretary at Massillon when he coached there. They have two children.

The Harding cage banquet will be held in the high school cafeteria, Coach Jim Lawler will present varsity basketball awards to Doug Bibler, Ron Conroy, Bob Hamor, Max Kaelber, Dave Schenker and Don Smith, all seniors, and Phil Carroll, a junior. Cheerleader awards will also be presented.

Mayer, Bolt Win
In Overtime Play

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (U)—Dick Mayer's 18-foot putt that won the $15,000 International Four Ball Golf Tournament for himself and his partner, Tommy Bolt, was no surprise to the slender, blond St. Petersburg, Fla., campaigner.

"I was absolutely confident when I stepped up to the ball," Mayer said happily. "I felt sure I would make it."

The shot, on the first hole of a "sudden death" playoff, finished Julius Boros and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, who had climbed from third place into a tie with Mayer and Bolt in yesterday's final round of the 72-hole tournament.

Gola Sparks Explorers
To NCAA Championship

KANSAS CITY (U)—Thanks to the magic touch of All-America Tom Gola the LaSalle College Explorers today reign as NCAA basketball champions.

The 6-7 inch Gola won the Most Valuable Player award hands down as he ignited LaSalle to a 30-point third quarter that dropped the Bradley Braves 92-76 in the finals Saturday night.

Penn State's itany Lions humbled Southern California, 70-61, for third place.

Redleg Slugger
Still Searching For Home Run

LAKELAND, Fla. (U)—Ted Kluszewski, the great Cincinnati home run slugger, still is looking for his first homer in the grapefruit circuit.

Not that Big Klu isn't doing well with the big wood. He hit three singles yesterday, increasing his batting mark to .395, as the Reds downed the Chicago White Sox 5-3 at Tampa.

Jim Greengrass brought in two of yesterday's runs with a homer over the 390 foot mark in center field. The 26-year-old Cincinnati left fielder narrowly missed another one in the eighth.

Howie Judson and Saul Rogovin, former White Sox pitchers, got the mound assignment for today's game here with the Detroit Tigers.

Cleveland Signs
Greenberg for
2 More Years

YUMA, Ariz. (U)—Cleveland Indians President Myron Wilson said today that giving General Manager Hank Greenberg a new two-year contract might be called a "vote of confidence."

Wilson, announcing the pact yesterday at Los Angeles, added it would last through the 1955 season and declared:

"One reason we gave Greenberg a new contract at this time was to prevent speculation during the season."

The general manager's salary will remain the same, Wilson said, although he did not make it public. It is estimated at about $85,000 yearly.

Directors voted unanimously on Feb. 4 to make out the new contract, Wilson revealed, pointing out they did not hold Greenberg responsible for slumping attendance.

New York's Giants thumped Indian pitcher Art Houtteman for a pair of three-run homers yesterday and won, 9-1.

Manager Al Lopez, will be a man of many decisions in the next three weeks.

"King Solomon," they'll be calling Senior Lopez, and the Tribe followers will be hoping he renders the right decisions.

Lopez can use help for his big three of the pitching corps, Bob Lemon, Mike Garcia and Early Wynn.

He has no problem with Al Rosen, the Indians' third baseman, most valuable player-elect in the American League in 1953 and the homerun champion with 43 in the circuit.

Training Play
Combination of Good and Bad

By RIP WATSON
AP Sports Writer

Baseball's spring training games don't count in the record books, and there are some days the boys are just as glad nobody's keeping tabs on them.

Days like yesterday, for example, when the highly paid major leaguers came up with the following:

Twenty-three basts on balls in one game . . . a home run by a Cuban rookie in his first time at bat in organized baseball . . . a rookie who's played exactly 10 games in the majors installed as the Chicago Cubs regular shortstop . . . a 3-2 victory by Boston with a batting attack consisting of two hits, six walks in two innings and five St. Louis errors.

The standings themselves are surprising enough, with the Philadelphia Athletics, nobody's favorite to win the American League pennant, leading their league in the spring standings after a 7-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates. And if the Pirates had won instead, they'd be leading the National Leaguers on percentage thus far.

This multiple bases on balls—seven below the major league record—came in Washington's 10-9 victory over Detroit. The winning run, as you might expect, was scored when Dick Marlowe walked. Clyde Volmer with the bases loaded and two out in the ninth inning.

The Cuban rookie who made such a sensational debut was Angelo Toledo of the Chicago White Sox, but despite his efforts Cincinnati defeated the Sox 5-3. Toledo had reported to his first baseball camp exactly one hour before.

The new Cub shortstop is Ernie Banks, one of the first three Negroes ever to represent the team. He batted .314 in a brief trial last September and is close to .500 thus far this spring. This prompted the Cubs to trade their previous shortstop, Roy Smalley, to Milwaukee for pitcher Dave Cole.

Gerry Staley of the Cardinals pitched six innings of one-hit, scoreless ball against Boston, but the effort went for nothing when the Red Sox combined their second hit of the game, with six walks by Tom Poholsky and five Red Bird errors.

The Athletics got five good innings of pitching from Bob Trice, the International League's Most Valuable Player last year, and the lead stood up despite homers by George Freese and Frank Thomas.

Prexy, St. Mary
Foes Named to
All-Ohio Berths

Three cagers who played against Harding and Marion St. Mary have been named to the United Press All-Ohio Class A high school basketball teams while several others have gained honorable mentions.

Ashland's Ken Sidle, a 6-5 senior who paced the Arrows to a win over Harding in the regular season, was named to a forward post on the first team while Tiffin Calvert's giant Bill Rohrbach, 6-6, was placed at a guard slot. He led the Calvert squad to a win over the Irish here during the past season.

George Swank of Mansfield made the second team as a forward. The tall Tyger was the big gun for the Mansfield quintet which knocked off Harding in sectional play.

Three other cagers whom Harding faced gained honorable mentions. They were Miller of Fremont Ross, Wincel Ingram of Shelby, and Dave Miller of Findlay.

Area high schoolers listed in the honorable mention balloting were Glenn Butterman of Bucyrus and Dave McClain of Upper Sandusky.

Rohrbach and Sidle were joined on the All-Ohio first team by Chillicothe's Wayne Stevens, a 6-4 senior, at forward; Owen Lawson, Middletown's 6-0 senior, at a guard slot; and Alex Ellis of Hamilton, a senior standing 6-5, at the center post.

Rohrbach was the top scorer among the five with 560 points. Stevens had 454, Sidle 450, Ellis 423 and Lawson 368.

The second squad was made up of Swank and Jim Franklin of Columbus North at forwards, Wayne Embry of Tecumseh at center, and Bill Mazeroski of Titonsville and Eric Black of Middletown at guards.

On Card at Armory

A 60-minute, best two-out-of-three fall girls match is included on Thursday's wrestling card at the Marion Armory.

Olga Zepeda, the only Mexican girl wrestler in the United States, takes on Joyce Ford in the bout. Ford showed the fans her roughness when she appeared on the wrestling program here last Thursday.

A tag team match, scheduled for 60 minutes and two out of three falls, pits the Bowery Boys against Scotty Williams and Ricky Waldo.

Mark Levin takes on Irish McGee in the one-fall opener at 8:30 p.m.

Two Marion 'Y' Teams
Cop District Cage Laurels

Marion Industries and Wesley Methodist captured district championships in the Industrial and Church League divisions Saturday on the local YMCA floor.

Industries had little trouble in defeating Toledo, romping to an easy 76-54 win after getting away to a rapid first quarter spurt. Taking a 15-4 lead after the first eight minutes, the rangy local squad left the floor at half time with a 38-23 lead and eased to their first district championship.

Harold Dillon, leading point getter for the Industries rolled in 22 points while Griffith, Saul and Cheney added 16 and 10 points respectively. The winners travel to Columbus next Saturday where they meet the winner of the Southeast district at 10:30 a.m. A win will shove them into the finals of the state championship against winners of the Northeast and Southwest Ohio West Virginia districts.

Wesley Methodist pulled the upset of the year by dumping favored St. Petri Lutheran Church representative from Toledo 60-45. St. Petri had defeated Findlay 68-40 in an afternoon contest and was picked on the basis of height and past record to win the 1954 District championship without too much difficulty.

Entering the tournament this year with a record of eight consecutive district wins and four state championships, the St. Petri record did not effect the Wesley team as it played an aggressive full court defensive game which had the Toledo team rattled and with ragged tempers before the game was five minutes old. Wesley led at the first period 13-10 and maintained a tie at half time 20-20.

Trailing by a 33-29 count entering the final period and later by a 37-30 count with only six minutes to go, the rangy St. Petri team completely blew up as Wesley poured shot after shot through the nets to take a 47-41 lead. Wesley continued its scoring spurge to Kenny Comstock came off the Wesley bench in the second period and found the range for his highest point total of the season. He dumped in 21 points. Don Earl added 13 and Jim Ruth hit for 10. Jaech, Toledo's 6-6 center, was tops for the losers with 11 markers while Dethroff and Hanning had 10.

Green Camp Elevator, playing in the district tournament at Toledo, captured its afternoon game from Findlay with an easy 67-43 verdict but dropped the nightcap to a rangy Toledo team. The Toledoans averaged 6-4 and limited the Green Camp squad to second place in the event.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Find Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special). — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery. In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place. And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing. All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body. Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H. The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. *Trade Mark.

Inventor of German V2 Rocket Warns Of Atomic Missiles

DUESSELDORF, Germany — Prof. Herman Oberth, a developer of the German V2 rocket in World War II, believes atomic weapons developed in the next year will be so dangerous no nation will dare start a war.

Oberth, honorary president of German Society for Space Research told the group last night that 12 more months of research will make it possible for rockets loaded with atomic bombs to devastate any spot on earth within 45 minutes.

"This means," he said, "that in case of war all big cities of the enemy can be destroyed within two or three hours. Personally, I definitely believe that then no minister will decide himself for a war because he would sign his own death sentence at the same time."

LISBON, Portugal — Two Yugoslav volleyball players who say they are tired of communism have deserted their country's championship ball team and asked for political asylum in Portugal. Officials identified the pair as Budimir Gavica and Julka Jost and said they turned themselves over to Portuguese police last week.

Gavica was captain of the team which won an international tournament here last week. Jost was its youngest member.

The rest of the team sailed for Bordeaux, France, aboard a British ship.

Erie Railroad Revenues Hit All-Time High

Total $181,505,236,
President Reports in Stockholder Message

CLEVELAND — Erie Railroad spent over $160 million for improvements, paid $84 million in dividends, yet was able to reduce its debt by $18 million in the last 12 years, Paul W. Johnston, president, told shareholders in the 1953 annual report currently being mailed.

Erie had gross operating revenues last year of $181,505,236, which exceeded all previous years. This compared with $176,459,018 in 1952. Net income was $12,581,603, equal to $4.51 per share of common stock before capital and sinking funds. In 1952, net income was $13,223,521 or $4.57 a share.

Subsidiary Earnings Down

"Net earnings from the actual operation of the railroad were better than last year (1952) but the decrease in dividends from subsidiary companies and abnormally high charges because of retirement of non-depreciable property made obsolete by dieselization, account for the slightly lower overall comparison with 1952," Johnston explained. "These two items made a difference of 82 cents in earnings per share of common stock."

"As to the outlook for the current year, Johnston said, "We are tentatively forecasting a 7½ per cent decline in freight ton-miles. We have taken steps to meet this decline by making certain economies. With watchfulness over the use of our dollars, we will still be able to maintain the railroad at its present high standard and at the same time produce encouraging results for the shareholders. It will be a busy year and there is good reason for optimism."

Revenue Breakdown

Operating expenses amounted to $136,382,758 compared with $134,941,169 in the previous year. The ratio of expenses to revenue was 75.1 per cent, a decrease from 76.5 per cent.

Erie revenues came primarily from freight service, which accounted for $160,209,639 or 88 per

WHERE BULLET STRUCK CONGRESSMAN. Rep. Alvin M. Bentley, Michigan Republican who was felled in the House chamber shooting March 1, shows newsmen where bullet entered his chest. cent of the gross. Passenger receipts were $7,196,283 or 4 per cent; mail, express and miscellaneous revenues were $14,099,314 or 8 per cent.

He explained that Erie management has been actively exploring all possibilities in connection with the operation of trailers on flat cars. In recent weeks, the Erie announced it is planning to purchase 100 specially-designed 75-foot roller bearing flat cars capable of carrying two standard highway trailers in order to offer the service to shippers if and when rates and other details are worked out.

The Erie has on order two 250-ton wrecking diesel-powered cranes, 700 box cars, 360 gondola cars, six depressed-center flat cars and two all-room passenger sleeping cars.

In the year just completed, the railroad received five diesel locomotives to bring ownership to 472 units, 21 diesel-powered cranes, four diesel tug boats, a giant wrecking crane, and 50 bay-window type steel cabooses equipped with train radiotelephone sets.

Common bricks were made at Marietta in 1788.

P.E. 80 YEARS AGO

CARBONDALE, Ill. (UP) — The physical education course at Southern Illinois University has come a long way from its founding in 1874. The first university catalog listed the purpose of the course as "to give grace and symmetry to the frame, and volume and culture to the voice."

Lenten Meditations

This is one in a series of Lenten meditations prepared by the members of the Marion County Ministerial Association for publication in The Star.

Christ Humbled Himself

By REV. FRED D. MORGAN
Pastor of First Church of Christ

"For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich."—II Cor. 8:9.

It does one good to meditate upon the love of Christ. Out of such meditation wondrous things are brought to view. The extent to which He went in humbling Himself, shows forth the extent to which His love flows out toward a fallen race.

Christ was rich. He inhabited a throne of glory in eternity. Mighty angels worshiped and obeyed Him. The Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, were one in that circle of infinite love which knows no bounds. The bliss of heaven was his to fully enjoy. All glory and all honor and all riches were his in the truest sense.

Yet Christ left the ivory palaces of heaven, "made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant . . . and being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross." He became poor that we all might be rich.

PRAYER—Heavenly Father, we thank thee for the unspeakable gift of Thy Son. Help us to receive the riches of grace offered to us through faith in His atonement. Amen.

This low-lined glamer car is the stunning new 1954 Buick Special—now V8-powered to a record high—and priced just a few dollars above the "low-price three."

The Look of Tomorrow

lets you see better today

BUICK
the beautiful buy

NEVER before its introduction by Buick did you see a windshield like this on a standard-production automobile.

It comes from the experimental "dream cars" you may have seen pictured from time to time—but it's on every 1954 Buick today.

As you can see, this broadly arching sweep of glass adds bright new beauty and a definite look of tomorrow to the glamorous new Buick.

Even more, this stunning new windshield treatment gives you 19% more visibility—because it pulls back the corners, lets you see as a pilot sees.

But there's a lot more than "dream car" windshields to the new-day 1954 Buicks.

For these are really new cars—with new bodies, new interiors, new ride features, new handling ease—and, above all, new record-high V8 horsepowers.

Come in and look them over—sit in, sample and price one of these breath-taking new glamor Buicks. It's the only way to know what beautiful buys they are in every way.

Harding Yearbook Staff Puts Out Largest 'Quiver'

Books, Now at Printers, Scheduled To Arrive At School in May

"Quiver," Harding High School's yearbook, will have three "mores" when it comes out in late May.

This year's edition, edited by Murray Leeper, will have more pages, more advertising and more copies sold than any previous Harding yearbook.

ABOUT 900 students have ordered the yearbook which will have 160 pages. The first printing will have 144 pages while a 16-page supplement, including late spring activities will be mailed to subscribers this summer. The advertising totals $2,400, about $900 above last year.

Putting out the yearbook has been an eight-month job for the staff. A basic staff of 10 started work in August and was joined by 17 other staffers in September. Under the direction of Miss Mary Jo Stafford, sophomore English teacher, the students put the yearbook to press March 10.

MISS STAFFORD yearbook adviser for the last five years, said the Quiver first came out 44 years ago. The first issues, in 1912, were paper-bound and published quarterly. She also explained the book's title.

"According to the dictionary a quiver is a holder of arrows, she said. 'We feel our Quiver is a holder of a year's memories'."

This year's staff was completely new at putting out a yearbook. Leeper was chosen last spring from candidates screened by teachers and Hardings principal, Cecil W. Gabler.

AFTER EIGHT MONTHS of work basic staff members of Quiver Harding High School's yearbook are putting the finishing touches on this year's edition. The yearbook, edited by Murray Leeper, will come out in late May.

Swambaugh, Sally Barton and Mary McFann copy, and Rachel Davis, librarian.

BOB KNACHEL designed the cover for the yearbook. It will be printed by lithography for the first time this year. Cost of print school paper, picture post cards and the book is $6 per copy while the school an annual a sem student can purchase it for $3.25.

The Quiver also sponsors other projects including a dance with senior portraits.

Officers Elected By Prospect PTA

Officers for the new year were elected when the Prospect School PTA met Thursday night at the school. James F. Lauer was elected president. Mrs. Harold Gix, first vice president. Clyde Forrey, second vice president. Mrs. Andrew Remlinger, secretary. Mrs. Harry Revnolds, treasurer.

For the program a panel of faculty members and parents discussed "School Problems" with Clyde Forrey, superintendent serving as moderator. Mrs. Troy McClure was in charge.

Mrs. Robert Emery, president presided for the meeting during which plans were made to serve a Boosters Club banquet March 26. Devotions were conducted by Rev. L. L. Young, pastor of the Prospect Methodist Church. Mr. Forrey gave a report on playground improvements which are near completion. Group singing closed the meeting.

At the April meeting a round table discussion of "Choosing the Students School Curriculum" will be held. Eight grade students and teachers are expected to be present.

Typical of many good things the way he developed a bomb designed to drive a car into the cellar about the time he was building most homes without any cellar.

Dedication Held for First Morrow Children's Home

State's Welfare Director
Gives Main Address
At Mount Gilead

MOUNT GILEAD — Judge Henry J. Robinson, director of the state department of public welfare, gave the main address here Saturday afternoon at the dedication of Morrow County's first children's home.

Morrow County Common Pleas Judge Leland Rutherford presided during the dedication of the new Isadora Davis Parsons Memorial Children's Home which is located next to the county hospital. The home was completed late last year under the terms of the will of the late Charles Ellsworth Parsons in memory of his wife.

"Mr. Parsons saw the need of a children's home in Morrow County," Judge Rutherford said.

INCLEMENT WEATHER kept the service indoors as Judge Robinson delivered the principal address following the invocation by Rev. Robert W. McNary, pastor of the Cardington Methodist Church.

"Good judgement has been used in the building of a children's home in Morrow County where children have a good home in which to live while plans are made for their futures," said the judge. "The county welfare department and juvenile court now have a place where children may enjoy constructive living along with the good things of life."

"Too often, among children, the spirit of hope is gone," stated Judge Robinson. "Love and security is needed. We must have a feeling for the children to try to inspire their lives with kindness, sympathy and understanding."

SHERMAN WENTZ of Lexington, executor of the Parsons will, presented the key to the home to Walter Hardesty, chairman of the Morrow County Board of Commissioners.

Judge Rutherford presented Probate Judge John W. McMillan, who spoke briefly. "We are glad to have the home," Judge McMillan said. "There could be no better investment in the future of Morrow County children. We can now accomplish much with the home assisting in handling our many problems."

T. A. Campbell presented an American flag to the home on behalf of the Morrow County American Legion Council. Other gifts included floral baskets by the county commissioners, Main's and the Charm Beauty Salon, a painting by The Roselers and Miss Beatrice Ward, a ping-pong table by the Mount Gilead Lumber Co., an automatic record player by Hopkins Music Store, game rack by members of the Hydraulic Press Manufacturing Co. personnel, and a canary by Burr Detwiler.

PRINCIPALS IN THE DEDICATION ceremony of the Isadora Davis Parsons Memorial Children's Home at Mount Gilead Saturday were: left to right, seated, Mrs. Fred Corwin, superintendent of the Home, and Mrs. Carol Dodds, Morrow County Welfare Director, and standing, state welfare director, Judge Henry J. Robinson, Probate Judge John W. McMillan, and Morrow County Common Pleas Judge Leland Rutherford.

FINAL BENEDICTION prayer of the ceremony was given by Rev. Lawrence Sprinkle, pastor of the Mount Gilead Baptist Church.

Mrs. Fred Corwin was recently named superintendent of the home and is working closely with Mrs. Carol Dodds, Morrow County Welfare Director, in care of the children.

The building commission included: Roscoe Dennis, A. A. Baker, Henry Baker, John Stone, John Reed and Chester Brooks.

In the friendlier parts of town it wasn't so long ago—only about 10 cents a pound—that a neighbor who dropped in for coffee was welcome.

"Just a Fifteen Minute Drive from Marion"

Not Needed, Argues CED

Democrats Seek Federal Action To Spur Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — The argument among businessmen, economists and lawmakers over the economic state of the nation ran along these lines today: Should the government do something drastic to stimulate business, now, perhaps later, or at all?

Now, said two Democratic senators, Hill of Alabama and Douglas of Illinois, in separate interviews yesterday.

Takes Opposing View

Only when there is a "recession of some severity" actually in existence or "forecast with a high degree of certainty" said the committee for Economic Development and members of CED a private but influential organization of businessmen and economists said at a news conference yesterday said a time has not yet arrived.

There was general agreement that tax cuts and public works programs offered ways in which government might attack a recession when the time was deemed ripe.

Hill said the economic indices meant to him that the situation is definitely getting worse and the administration ought to move with a program of public works in which the states and local communities could participate.

Douglas renewed his advocacy of income tax cuts, came out last night for further excise slashes and said, "I certainly hope the administration does not wait too long to act."

Cities Delayed Effects

But the CED in a policy statement said involving such measures against "small, short and uncertainly forecast recessions" carried a danger of delayed effects. It said:

"The stimulating effect would probably not start until the need for it had passed and would continue even though it created a danger of inflation."

For mild business declines or those in the early stages, the CED report prescribed such devices as "increasing the supply of money, easing of credit and lowering of interest rates."

Some action along this line already has been taken through the government's fiscal agencies. CED said that if the time should come for stronger action, a temporary cut in federal taxes, ordinarily but not necessarily through an across-the-board cut in income taxes would be the most immediately effective means.

Public works spending would be useful, perhaps to the tune of 1½ billion dollars within a year, but would take effect more slowly, the committee report said. But it said it might be desirable to blueprint projects and an agency to administer them.

Frazar B. Wilde, president of the Connecticut General Life Insurance Co. and chairman of the group which prepared the report, said he does not consider tax cuts or other drastic action in order now. Other CED members at the same news conference expressed agreement. One, Meyer Kestbaum, president of Hart Schaffner and Marx, said he expects an upturn in early fall.

Hits 'Summer Slump' Psychology

Bright Retail Year Forecast by Gimbel

NEW YORK—If they recognize their opportunities, U. S. retailers can achieve their greatest sales volume in many years in 1954. That is the conviction of Bernard Gimbel, board chairman of Gimbel Brothers Inc.

One of the keys to economic success this year in the retailing field is heavy promotion and selling activity during the warm weather months, he declared.

IN A STRONGLY worded statement backed up with statistics, Gimbel deplored the "summer slump psychology" which clouds the American business mind. "It is the sheerest fiction that selling opportunities disappear with warm weather," he asserted. And this is no time for businessmen to deal in fiction.

"There is no good reason for a summer slump in any season or in any year and particularly in 1954," he continued. "The business is there if we go after it—all summer long."

Gimbel spoke at a press conference called jointly with the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn.

THE BUREAU announced it is about to launch a large-scale drive to combat the summer slump state of mind "one completely unwarranted by sales statistics. Armed with U. S. Department of Commerce figures, Gimbel pointed out that many lines of business do as well in summer or better than during any other season.

He said retail business as a whole holds up at a very high level and that in 1953 only May, October and December exceeded the summer months in dollar volume.

Gimbel said his firm has planned a series of powerful summer promotions aimed at confounding the "prophets of gloom" and wiping out the idea that business goes into a slump each summer.

AT THE PRESS conference he also said he does not know if the U. S. is heading into a serious recession.

I do know, however, that whether a recession does or does not come will depend very materially on what happens in the retail field," he said.

"Retailing is one of the vital factors—perhaps the most vital—in our whole economy," he asserted.

The Gimbel executive said that "what happens to our economy will be influenced directly by what retailers throughout the country accomplish this year."

"And what they accomplish will depend in large part on how actively they go after summer business—the most neglected and the most underpromoted area in our whole merchandising system," he said.

American Soldier Hitchhikes 9,000 Miles for Wedding
BERLIN (AP)—An American sergeant today married the pretty German girl he met five years ago during the Soviet blockade of Berlin and for whom he hitch-hiked nearly 9,000 miles to join two weeks ago.

Air Force S. Sgt. Fred D. Elkins, 24, of Bedford, Ind., and 24-year-old Helga Krueger, a stenographer, were united in a civil ceremony at a West Berlin registrar's office.

Elkins arrived here March 9 after a week of hitch-hiking rides in military planes from Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines to his present station. He is on a 48-day furlough.

Confusion Reigns After South Koreans Adopt New Time Zone

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea finally declared her independence from the Japanese time zone and you should see the confusion.

The National Assembly, fiercely patriotic, carved out a Korean national etiquette, one diplomat time zone a half hour behind the Japan zone. It went into effect Saturday.

Now appointments are confirmed with the question "Japan or Korean time?" The 4 o'clock plane for Japan leaves at 4:30. And the 3 o'clock plane arrives at 3:30. International commuters, and telephoners are having the time of their lives making connections.

Fifty years ago Japan ordered Korea to set her clocks on Japan time. It was done to simplify commerce. And while the political course between the two nations often was rough, they operated smoothly in a single time zone. Now South Korea is back on its own time.

The U. S. State Department was the first to fall in line. Inter-national etiquette, one diplomat time zone a half hour behind the Japan zone. It went into effect Saturday.

The Army was tougher. Army transportation officials, less disposed to diplomacy, asked, "How in heck can we run a railroad when everyone has his own time?"

The Air Force was last. For a while planes took off from Japan on time and arrived in South Korea a half hour ahead of schedule. Then they left South Korea on time and returned to Japan a half hour merce. And while the political course between the two nations often was rough, they operated smoothly in a single time zone. Now South Korea is back on its own time.

Congress Makes the Laws

Secretary of Defense Wilson finally has done what should have been done a long time ago. He has told a committee of Congress that the Defense Department needs a clear directive on the problem of Communist citizens in the armed services.

Specifically, he has asked Congress to tell the Defense Department what to do with security risks when they turn up in the special medical draft. This was the situation that started the controversy between Sen. McCarthy and the Army.

Irving Peress, a dentist, had been drafted under the special law passed by Congress in 1950, which enabled the Defense Department to take medical and dental specialists above the otherwise maximum age of 25.

Dr. Peress was given a commission because he had been drafted for his special skill in dentistry. This was according to law. It was also according to law that he subsequently was given a higher commission. In June last year, the Selective Service Act was amended to make this mandatory.

At no time did Dr. Peress conceal from any authority the fact he had refused to answer questions about his possible sympathy with the Communist conspiracy. Under the law as enacted by Congress and under interpretations of the law by the U.S. Supreme Court, the only way the armed services could avail themselves of his special services was to keep him as a commissioned man or send him home.

It does not stretch the imagination to believe Dr. Peress would have preferred to go home and let younger men do the Army's dental work.

This is why it has been proposed that draftees who are tainted with suspicion of sympathy for the Communist conspiracy should be handled in some special way.

Congress is being asked to clear up for the armed services a point previously left vague and uncertain. Secretary Wilson, called to testify, has admitted his department has a problem it cannot solve without congressional help.

Ready for Worldwide Delivery

The surprisingly casual announcement by Rep. W. Sterling Cole, chairman of the joint congressional committee on atomic energy, that the United States now can deliver an H-bomb anywhere in the world reveals the key fact about this country's claimed supremacy in atomic warfare.

It is the fact the United States can deliver both the H-bomb, which is new, and the A-bomb, which now is commonplace.

Neither the Soviet Union nor Great Britain, both able to set off atomic explosions, can deliver the material for the explosions to a point of their choosing and set off by dropping them from an airplane, so far as is known.

The explosions they have caused apparently have occurred under conditions similar to those when the United States exploded its first A-bomb on a special tower in New Mexico. It is not known that anyone else possesses the secret of a trigger mechanism.

This has been the information which has been guarded most jealously — not information about atomic energy itself, which has been in the domain of physics, but information about the trigger mechanism, which has been in the domain of engineering.

Of equal importance, moreover, is this country's development of aviation equipment and personnel capable of delivering man's nearest approach to a definitive weapon to the points where definitive results would have to be achieved in the event the men in the Kremlin ever made the fateful blunder of resorting to naked violence.

Something Good for New York

The new mayor of New York City, Robert F. Wagner, Jr., finally is saying out loud what New Yorkers have been whispering for years.

Unless New Yorkers can get rid of racketeering in their seaport, they will lose business to better-disciplined ports.

Mayor Wagner, referring to the latest tie-up of New York shipping by a feud between two waterfront unions each demanding exclusive NLRB recognition, says some shipping companies already have arranged to leave New York permanently.

Two things have contributed heavily to New York's troubles in this respect. One is the labor legislation which Mayor Wagner's own father sponsored when he fought for the Wagner Act. It gave government certification and protection for unions regardless of their corruption. The other is the near-monopoly achieved and maintained by New York over shipping to and from the bountiful Middle West.

The breaking of the near-monopoly explains New York's bitter opposition to the St. Lawrence seaway, which would provide an alternative route and put such Atlantic ports as New York on the defensive. When this happens, waterfront racketeering in New York City will no longer be carried on at the expense of producers and consumers with no chance to use alternative facilities for deep-water shipping.

New York will have gained a powerful incentive to clean house.

Ike and the Press

By James Marlow

Relations Smoother After Year in White House

WASHINGTON, P. — President Eisenhower is handling his news conferences more smoothly than he did in 1953. He has had a year's experience, knows his job better, and has learned more about the realities of politics.

In recent weeks, perhaps as a natural development, he has seemed more direct and self-confident. And in this same period he has spoken out—always without mentioning names—in words widely interpreted as announcing a stand on Sen. McCarthy. But the Wisconsin Republican does not concede that Eisenhower is among his critics.

Whatever the connection, if any, between McCarthy and Eisenhower's more positive attitude at news conferences, at least the President acts more relaxed, as a man might who had faced a hard decision and finally made it.

He is still as brisk as he was at his first news conference in 1953, and still just as friendly. And he still shakes his head in amazed amusement when a conference ends and newsmen hurry through the door for a phone.

HE CAN GET emotional. And when he does his voice shows it. So does his suddenly flushed face. Then the words pour out. He was plainly angry two weeks ago in commenting on Adlai Stevenson's broadcast criticism of him.

Last year, some of his news conferences were painful. Unlike Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, he never ducked a question with "no comment." Frank to admit he didn't know all the answers, he always tried to give some reply. Sometimes a simple "no comment" would have been just as illuminating, for some of the answers he gave wound up rambling or platitudinous. That still happens. Sometimes, but not so much. He's more to the point now.

When it happens it's the result of trying to think up an answer out loud on the spot. At times like those he tears his sentences to ribbons. Words that start out to be sentences end up in mid-air or in disconnected phrases.

THIS IS THE TOUGHEST part of a conference for newsmen with the job of trying to take down every word, trying to follow the thought, and immediately afterward on a phone trying to be sure of what he meant.

Eisenhower realizes his sentences aren't always what they might be. Not long ago, jokingly, he gave permission to be quoted directly but only, he said, after his aides cleared up his sentences in the stenographer's notes.

Eisenhower has a policy of never saying anything critical of anyone by name. He never, he says, deals in personalities.

Last year at times he seemed like a man who thought if he was just nice to everyone, everyone might be nice to him.

Repeatedly at his 1953 news conferences he was questioned about McCarthy, who was running head on into his administration time after time. Eisenhower never said anything that remotely approached announcing a break with the senator.

PERHAPS IN 1953, when he was beginning to learn his way around in politics the hard way, he felt that if he just stayed mild long enough McCarthy might go away.

But this year the Wisconsin Republican, starting at full speed with an investigation of communism in the Army, told a general he couldn't help questioning either the officer's honesty or his intelligence and got into a blazing dispute with Robert T. Stevens, Army secretary.

At first Eisenhower stayed in the background. Day after day newspapers prodded him to assert leadership and take a stand. He eventually did, but in stages, as McCarthy's relations with the Army became explosive.

IN THREE SUCCESSIVE news conferences Eisenhower used language that sounded like first a gentle and then a stern rebuke to McCarthy, and then backed up Stevens against the senator. True to his policy of mentioning no names, he never mentioned McCarthy's.

Since the Army could hardly have taken on the senator for a showdown without Eisenhower's approval, the President may have decided to have it out with McCarthy that way instead of in a fish wife's brawl over a back fence.

A Prevalence of Widows

By TRUMAN TWILL

A reliable source of information, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., says there now are 7,500,000 widows in the United States and probably there will be another million by 1960.

This clinches a widespread impression about a prevalence of widows. But it does not suggest what may have to be done about it if the males of this republic continue to wear themselves out with work and worry before their time.

It doesn't even convey a hint that the prevailing practice among marriageable males of choosing chicks who are younger and theoretically more impressionable is throwing things out of balance and should be investigated with a view to reform.

Nevertheless, a prevalence of widows is too big a problem to be shrugged off lightly. In a society whose rock-bottom foundation is the institution of marriage, the tendency of a lopsided majority of marriages to end up in widowhood is getting to be more than a statistical happenstance. It is a social pattern.

It is contributing heavily to the multiplying characteristics of a matriarchy in American society. Not only are American widows growing more numerous year by year but they are becoming more influential.

Gone forever is the once-dreary idea that a widow always was a woman in need of help, unless she happened to be still young and marriageable, in which event it was her married friends who needed help.

The widow of today is in most cases a vigorous person of mature years, with fixed ideas of her own and no intention whatever of taking herself out of circulation because of an accident of fate.

She may decide to be a business tycoon or a traveler. She may take it into her head to make a career she voluntarily abandoned when she was enjoying her life as a married woman.

She frequently has to work for a living. She frequently has to shoulder the burden of a family. But less frequently than ever before does she think of herself or let herself be thought of as a "poor widow" — the kind that sticklers used to rob of their hoarded pennies, along with the poor orphans, while the do-gooders bit chunks out of their palm-leaf fans.

A prevalence of widows has been proving what could have gone without any proving as far as men are concerned:

Women can get along without men in a much better fashion than men can get along without women. A host of men have returned to the dust since the old days when a man's widow was tied to his funeral pyre because the light of her life was about to get lit for the last time.

Women have come into their own with plenty to spare — and if this seems a roundabout way to lead up to a proposal to a certain lady that she spare the flower beds this spring as her first contribution to a Save-Your-Husband campaign, it is exactly that. No more, no less.

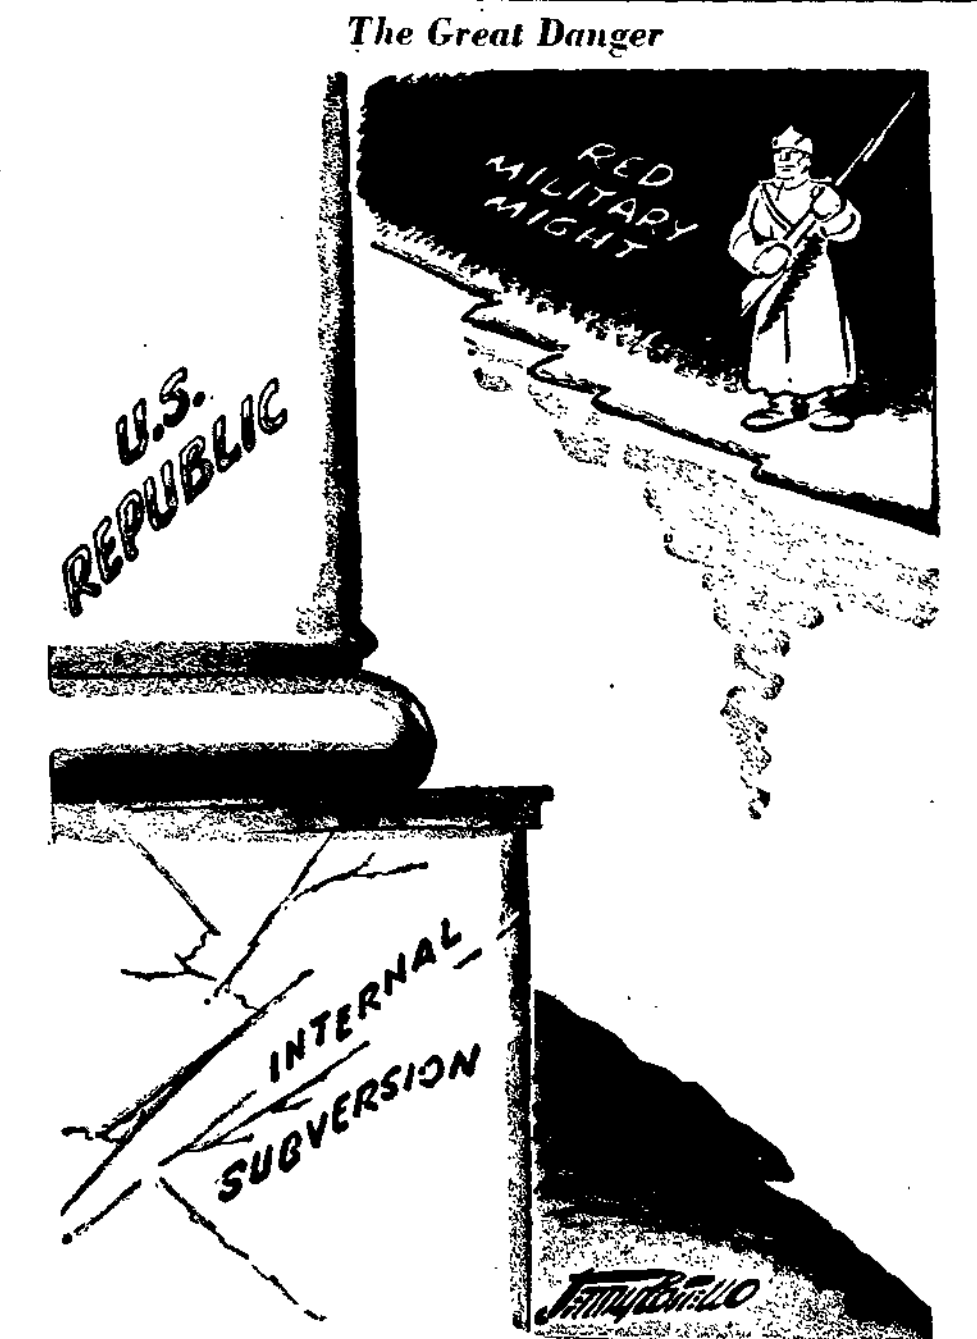

The spade is in the tool shed back of the door, Lamb!

Mao Fades From Scene in Red China

By F. K. Wu

HONG KONG — A Kremlin-like struggle for power has shown evidence of erupting among China's Communist leaders under Chairman Mao Tse-tung, who persistent reports remove from active participation in the Peiping government.

Chief antagonists, who have established their competitive roles quite clearly, are identified by underground sources, including a former party official, as Liu Shao-chi, understood to have Moscow's backing, and Gen. Chu Teh, nominal head of the "People's Liberation Army."

Liu, it is believed here, will come out of the conflict relegated to a nominal job, while Chu takes military control and Premier Chou En-lai political. But such decisions may always be subject to review in Moscow.

Just as the Russian army became a significant factor in the Malenkov-Beria conflict after Stalin's death, so Liu Shao-chi must reckon with the opposition of the military. He is understood to rely on the support of some Chinese party officials, besides the godhead of international communism in the Kremlin.

MAO, 60, HAS repeatedly been reported stricken by heart disease, tuberculosis or both. Informants at this listening post with Peiping contacts do not rule out the possibility he is already dead of natural causes, that he has been arrested or even liquidated.

Substantial verification has come from Mao's failure to appear at public gatherings in Peiping since early last December. He was officially reported "vacationing" last month at the time of the meeting of the all-powerful Central Executive Committee.

"In addition, the Peiping People's Daily — again just as the Soviet press and politburo pleaded for "party unity" at the time of Stalin's death — has recently played down Mao as a national hero and whooped up the need for political cohesion.

For the Chinese Communists, the friction would come at a grave time, with the Geneva conference at which China will seek a "big power" role only six weeks away.

According to the Peiping — contact sources, Vice Chairman Liu has incurred the army's wrath with outspoken denunciations indicating ambition for dominant control.

At the executive committee meeting, it has been learned, he launched an attack on the top generals as rulers of "independent kingdoms" — a seeming complaint that areas of China had been allowed to revert to feudal conditions that existed under the war lords. Additionally Liu upbraided "certain officials" found conceited and arrogant, both capital crimes in the Communist bible.

LIU SIGNIFICANTLY said that some Chinese Communists "exaggerated their importance and considered themselves the world's foremost leaders, accepting only praise." The suggestion that he included even Mao himself was striking.

The "independent kings" whom Liu assailed, in the opinion of one former party official, are the field commanders, the chiefs of military and political districts and some of the provincial governors.

These are the potentates who have rallied around Gen. Chu.

While Liu emphasized the need of party unity, Chu stressed unity of the army. Both are vice chairmen. Liu heading the party organization, Chu the army.

Since the meeting, it has been learned that Chu has dispatched several missions to army units throughout the country to excel the soldiers for their gallantry in "liberating the country" and in Korea.

Similarly, this is seen by acute students of Chinese communism as a move to strengthen the army against the party clique led by Liu.

As fragments of the intrigue are collected here, it appears doubtful that Liu, the politico, could win in a struggle against Chu, the general — barring outside intervention.

LIU'S ARDENT ally in the struggle was Gen. Lin Biao, commander of the crack Fourth Field Army who recalled the bulk of his troops from South China just in time to "defend" Korea. But Lin was reported seriously wounded in the fighting.

He has not appeared in a public gathering for a year and his army command and chairmanship of the central and south military and administrative districts have been reported taken over "temporarily" by Gen. Yeh Chien-ying, a veteran Communist well known to American Army officers in China after V-J day in 1945.

But even more, it is understood here that Liu has not been groomed by Mao to be the next head of the Peiping regime. Nor has Liu sufficient seniority and influence to take over the government in the face of the army's opposition.

Liu's eventual role, then, is indicated to be titular head of the Communist party while Premier Chou En-lai takes political power and Chu runs the army. People familiar with Peiping affairs do not count Liu a Malenkov.

Yet Liu has one powerful and experienced political brawler in his corner: the Kremlin. Whether a roundhouse thrown all the way from Moscow would flatten the opposition in Peiping may be the question whose answering will decide the new rulers of Communist China. (North American Newspaper Alliance)

From Our Readers

To The Star:

I have been thinking lately that every street in our fair city has a key person or persons living there. I am wondering who that person is on your street.

Please do not smile at this statement since it may be truer than you think. A deep conviction has come to me these days that since God has been so wonderfully kind and good to us we should want to spend our days doing his work. As ordinary Christian laymen and laywomen of the church, God would make our lives very extraordinary if we would propose in our hearts to do something for him each day.

If we as Christian men and women would feel deep within our hearts that "our street" is the world into which He has sent us to live and to tell the gospel story, and if we would knock on our neighbor's door and in a friendly way ask him to attend the church of his choice and witness to Him that Jesus the Babe of Bethlehem who became the man on the cross has become our personal savior, we would be happily surprised at the good it would do and the honor it would bring to our Lord.

Our faithful pastors are worked beyond their strength in making calls that we as laymen should be doing.

There is a cry deep within our hearts today for peace. We have all kinds of answers coming from the highly educated, from the unlearned, and from many sources. But the only answer may be within the lives of the individual Christians who will propose in their hearts that as individuals they will do their part to share his love with others in their own homes and in their own neighborhood.

Remember the old song that we sang some years ago. Lines from it were "Look all around you'll find someone in need, help somebody today. Though it be little a neighborly deed, help somebody today." Also another one with the words "Brighten the corner where you are," or we might sing it

"Right in the corner where you are."

Yes, God has something for us to do, right on our own street.

One thing that our wife has over Mrs. Robert R. Young is that when we go off to work in the morning she can be pretty sure we won't come home with the New York Central.

It's getting so in the college athletic business that when the alumni give the coach a new car he doesn't know whether it's a pledge of their loyalty or a hint to start traveling.

Now the doctors' opinion is that we'll be happier after 65 if we're working hard, but won't it be difficult to break the habit of a lifetime of loafing?

Abandoned in college football, the two-plateau system makes a final stand with the taxpayer consulting his defensive tax expert and the internal revenue folks constituting the offensive squad.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Pfc. Is Further Annoyed

Dear Babe: Just a few lines to let you know I would be just as clobbered up by a weapon stolen from Washington through drunks, ex-convicts, cocktail party loudmouths and perverts as if swiped by a 100 per cent Kremlin agent wearing his spy numbers front and rear. (In case you run across Adlai Stevenson tell him this.)

When I am in a frontline dressing station because of dirty work at the crossroads I will not be awful disappointed if it is not due to a certified spy but only to 2,400 double-martini blabbermouths, halfwits, loose talkers and careless playboys. And, Babe, I guess if our city is ever in rubble from an atomic weapon (which the Russkies got from America the easy way) it will not be considered excusable because no fully identified Kremlin agent did it, but just a lot of irresponsible cookies on the homefront. Which is why I don't get Adlai Stevenson's recent statement that Veep Nixon's report on 2,400 removals from sensitive jobs "was a familiar rendition of the numbers game, and we don't yet know how many actual Communists have been caught."

The veep said over 2,400 had been removed since May. The files indicated 422 in subversive activities, 1,424 with felony convictions or records for drunkenness, perversions, mental trouble and general untrustworthiness. And Adlai is not disturbed, (He will take certified spies or nothing!) I can vote Democratic or Republican and I think Joe McCarthy often uses a driving iron when a maschie nibble or even a putter would do, but I don't dig these people who say Ike Eisenhower is deceiving the country if he gives the bum's rush to 2,400 blabbermouths, queers, lamebrains and drunks and does not say, "They do not matter. If they are not 100 per cent subversive who cares?"

Believe me, I am sure all combat GIs and all kids who for years will be called into service will not think they have been deceived or tricked because 2,400 guys who could put them under a little white cross were merely loose characters and did not include enough 15-cent Benedict Arnolds.

Why should Adlai Stevenson or anybody be disappointed if only a few Communists have been found coiled in the flag. Who wants guarantees they are numerous? Not me, Babe. I think the alcoholics, the ex-convicts, the popoffs, the queers, the nutwits and the targets for easy blackmail by Russia are just as dangerous, especially 2,400 of them. I am just as dead stabbed in the back by a rumpot or Sloopnagle as by a Russian spy.

Well, take care of yourself and don't read speeches too much as they will just confuse you. If you ever hear just how many certified Commies have been removed, drop Adlai a line. Do not bother to send him any news of a few thousand guys in sensitive places who could lose a war for us. It is too deceptive, he says.

Governor Dewey wants all public officials, employees, and officers of political clubs barred from holding stock in any racing track including the flat tracks. . . . This could mean the biggest late scratch list in racing history. The emergence of trotting into the big-time is almost incredible. Not long ago it was considered strictly a sport for the "sticks," something for the country fairs and carnivals, except for the few Grand Circuit tracks, of which the general public knew little.

6,500 More Needed Each Year

Ohio Campaigns To Recruit Teachers

By BILL TERRY
 COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state department of education has stepped up its campaign to recruit more teachers from among Ohio students.

The campaign is built around a booklet just prepared by Harold J. Bowers, state director of teacher education and certification. The keynote of the booklet, "Let Us Consider Teaching in Ohio Schools," is that 1 out of every 7 high school graduates should prepare for teaching.

The booklet is filled with facts, practical information on salaries, chances for promotion, qualifications, sick leave and the like.

There aren't enough booklets to pass out to all high school seniors, but they are being placed with vocational counselors and others who help students select careers.

Ohio has 1,419,449 children enrolled in the kindergarten through high school, and it takes 52,624 teachers for them. School populations are rising and each year many teachers retire or find other positions.

That means there is a demand for at least 6,500 more teachers every year.

Where can they teach?

The "little red schoolhouse" has all but disappeared, but there still are 151 small country schools. The public school system consists of 3,931 buildings in 1,365 school districts. The country schools have as few as 15 pupils. Some city high schools have enrollments of 3,100. Some 57.4 per cent of the teachers are in 135 cities, while 36.8 per cent are in school systems in 88 counties. The rest are in exempted village districts.

Ohio's free public school system is here to stay: It was established in 1820.

Bowers says each year from 3,300 to 4,000 new elementary teachers are needed, two-thirds of that number because of replacements and one-third because of steadily increasing enrollments.

"There are at present, and will be for many years to come, more opportunities in this field of teaching than any other," he said. "At present, 86 per cent of the elementary teachers are women. Most communities seek a more favorable ratio. There are, therefore, excellent opportunities for young men as well as young women in this field, especially in the upper grades."

Kindergarten teaching attracts young housewives who like the short hours, he says. And Bowers adds there are many teaching opportunities in high schools and state universities for those who can qualify.

"At the present time, the greatest need is for elementary teachers, especially in the primary grades. In a few years there will be a demand for more high school teachers," Bowers writes. "Regardless of what field of teaching one chooses, his opportunity for employment is good."

Banker Says He'll Return Missing Funds

CLIO, Ala. (AP)—With the deadline at hand, Clio waited tensely today for an answer to the $167,000 question they put to banker Royall Reynolds.

Reynolds could not be reached for comment. He promised last Friday after returning from a 12-day absence that every depositor in the Merchants Exchange would be paid in full "by the first of next week."

Disturbed townspeople took that to mean either today or tomorrow. The banker's 14-year-old son Tommy reported by telephone last night that his parents were not at home.

Reynolds, a Sunday school teacher and former mayor of this southeast Alabama farm community, is free in $7,500 bond on three indictments charging embezzlement.

About 135 customers of the unchartered bank, which handled most of the cash for the entire town, have already jotted down claims amounting to more than $167,000 in a notebook in Mayor Dan Easterling's office.

Exchange funds deposited in the First National Bank of Atlanta amount to only $81,800—less than half the amount depositors claim Reynolds owes them.

Girl Falls Into Plane's Propeller, Loses Hand

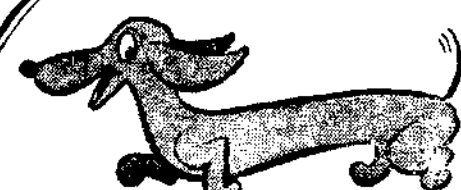

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—"Why don't I faint? Oh, how I wish I could faint," sobbed a 16-year-old girl whose left hand had been cut off at the wrist by an airplane propeller.

Sylvia Norman of Waco had taken a ride here yesterday with her uncle in his light plane. As she climbed from the plane she lost balance and fell into the spinning propeller.

The girl did not lose consciousness as bystanders fashioned a tourniquet. She was described in satisfactory condition at a hospital.

Prof. Dumble Gives Talk to Quest Club

Wilson R. Dumble, professor of English at Ohio State University, was a guest speaker when members of Quest Club entertained with their annual guest party Thursday evening at the Women's Club Home.

Mr. Dumble, who is a former Marion resident, chose for his topic "Unhappy Condition of Modern Fiction." He discussed the objections some readers have to modern fiction and discussed contemporary writers. He expressed the hope that someday some author would produce a novel as good as a symphony.

Mrs. George Barrows presided and welcomed the guests. For the social hour the table was in a spring theme with an arrangement of Japanese iris, jonquil, snapdragons and lighted green tapers. Presiding were Mrs. Barrows and Mrs. Howard Duhamel.

Child Has Reason For Asking Easter Dress 'With Holes'

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Mrs. Ralph H. Dolson took her 8-year-old daughter Suzie downtown to buy an Easter outfit.

"I don't want any just plain stuff," Suzie told her mother, "I want a dress like the dining room curtains. You know, with holes in what it's made out of."

They found only one dress—pale pink and lacy—which made Suzie's eyes shine.

Her reason for a dress "with holes" were evident when she pranced out of the store's dressing room.

Four large red hearts drawn on her bare chest showed clearly through the lace. Completing the picture were a cupid's arrow and the words, "Suzie Loves Terry, Terry Loves Suzie."

Later at home, Suzie dolefully watched her lipstick tattoo go down the bathtub drain, and repeated:

"But that's what for I wanted the dress."

She has the dress, though.

McCloy Record

By George Sokolsky

In the argument as to whether John J. McCloy signed the directive dated December 30, 1944, on the subject, "Disposition of Subversive and Disaffected Military Personnel," the answer is that it was signed by Brig. Gen. Robert H. Dunlop, acting adjutant general. The essence of this directive is:

"No action will be taken under the reference letter that is predicated on membership in or adherence to the doctrines of the Communist party unless there is a specific finding that the individual involved has a loyalty to the Communist party as an organization which overrides his loyalty to the United States. No such finding should be based on the mere fact that the individual's views on various social questions have been the same as the views which the Communist party may have advanced."

HOWEVER McCloy, then assistant secretary of war, testified before the House Special Committee on the Committee on Military Affairs on February 27, 1945 as follows:

"So, Gen. Bissell and I talked the matter over, and I talked it over in one of the war council meetings, at which the chief of staff, the secretary of war and the representatives of each of the staff bureaus meet once a week, and we generally come to the conclusion reflected in the December 30 letter. We worked over the language pretty carefully in the light of our experience and tried to produce something we thought was practicable and sensible.

"I am responsible as much as anyone, I would say Gen. Bissell and I were jointly involved in it. The actual language was arrived at between us."

AGAIN, WHEN questioned, Mr. McCloy accepted War Department responsibility, as the following colloquy shows:

"Mr. Thompson: Did I understand you to say, Mr. Secretary, in answer to Mr. Elston, that the War Department is solely and exclusively responsible for this directive?"

"Mr. McCloy: Yes, sir."

"Mr. Thompson: And that no outside organization or no government agency or any person in high authority in any government agency either suggested or requested it?"

"Mr. McCloy: No."

As to the charges recently made that John J. McCloy or someone else ordered mens records destroyed, McCloy's denial was complete in the 1945 hearing. This was confirmed in the same investigation by General Clayton Bissell, who, at that time, was head of G-2 (Intelligence).

At this hearing, General Bissell gave this information:

"Gen. Bissell: We have had approximately 100,000 investigations of all types, and of those about 2,500 have related to alleged Communists."

"Mr. Thompson: How many of them have been discharged?"

"Gen. Bissell: Of alleged Communists, we have discharged two."

IN THIS investigation, Gen. Bissell said:

"It revolves around the denunciation of a Communist. It is not clear. I wish it were clearer. I wish we had a clearer expression of what a Communist is."

Perhaps in this one citation lies all our difficulties. By 1945, when this investigation was held, the literature on Communism, defining the subject, was enormous, beginning with the Communist Manifesto of 1848, running through the writings of Marx, Engels, Lenin, Plekhanov, Bukharin, Stalin and a host of others in many countries.

The literature is positive and understandable. Gen. Bissell is an intelligent man; it is difficult to believe that he would not be familiar with this literature.

The transcript of the record of the 1945 hearing is bulky and I can quote no more from it here. I wish to assure the reader that I have scrupulously avoided taking anything out of context.

Stalemate

This will come as a surprise to many a governor. But, as a result of recent high court decisions, the states have no power to regulate or control strikes, boycotts or picketing—and that includes mass picketing.

This is true even in emergency cases such as the cutting off of milk or bread supplies.

The specific local character of a business is difficult to prove. Even office skyscrapers have been ruled in interstate commerce.

Furthermore, it can be authentically reported that the White House has changed its plans, which formerly called for a special presidential message urging that the states be given power to regulate strikes and picketing.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER reversed himself during private White House conferences because of the opposition of his Secretary of Labor James Mitchell. This cabinet member fought any further concessions to the states. As a result there is a deadlock behind the scenes—and, at least for the moment, Mitchell's views prevail.

So the whole operation is bogged down. Without a message from like, Congress itself won't move to give the states the power they've been seeking. This, therefore, can become a substantial victory for labor.

Reason is that the Supreme Court has ruled that the states have no power to act on the labor front where the jurisdiction conflicts with the federal Taft-Hartley Act.

The courts have even knocked out the Pennsylvania anti-sedition law. This is another example of the narrowing of the powers of the states.

Without further White House pressure, the stalemate situation means that many a factory and many a municipality will be in a shadowland area over which no one force or authority has power.

CONJECTURE, for example, about a milk strike which cuts off all supplies from a city. The strike is peaceful, but bitterly deadlocked. Under this situation other unions can refuse to transport and distribute the milk. Yet, because the dairy industry is interstate, neither the city nor the state can move.

Even though the strike comes under the federal law, it is not a national emergency—but a local one. The federal government, therefore, has no power to move in.

The crisis, then, is in the hands of the warring labor and management officials. Their reason alone can prevail.

The state can move in only one area—that's on the public utility front if an emergency threatens because a strike has cut the supply of gas, electric power or water, the state can act—but only if it seizes the public utility plants.

By Victor Riesel

It cannot move against the strike, the strikers or the pickets. It can operate the utilities—if it can find workers to go through the lines.

However, this means that many a governor or mayor will be faced with surrender of his own belief that it is wrong to seize private property.

There are just a few leaders of industry and labor who are aware of what has happened so swiftly on this front in the past weeks. These industrialists have been pressing the White House and Congress for action.

EISENHOWER's current decision against bidding for an increase in state authority over labor comes just as the National Chamber of Commerce is demanding that "States should be free to implement all their labor laws in such matters as strikes, walkouts, picketing, boycotts and enforcement of valid collective bargaining contracts."

The nation's top labor leaders, who have been in touch with Secretary of Labor Mitchell, whom they consider their best friend in the administration, are quite delighted with the deadlock inside the White House.

But the quietude on the Hill soon will be smashed.

The maverick House Labor Committee is planning to bring out a labor bill which includes returning broad powers over unions to the states.

The Senate Labor Committee, on the other hand, will reflect the current White House views. Congress will, therefore, be deadlocked. There will be no new labor law to replace Taft-Hartley.

And no powers for the states. (Post-Hall Syndicate, Inc.)

Lion's Den

NEW YORK

Life in the atom age is like living in a lion's den.

We have dwelt so many years on the fringe of terror that we have come to think of this as normal.

If a man were suddenly thrust into a lion's cage, he would cower against the bars in panic or blindly beat against them with his fists.

Every time the HAL BOYLE lion glances at him with a terrible, yellow-eyed authority the man would feel his death at hand—and perhaps would review his past life, as doomed men are reported to do.

BUT IF THE LION paid no attention to him, the man's panic would abate to a feeling of caution. Then, as more time passed, he would become forgetful of his fears. He would even gradually begin to take pride in the lion and think of it as belonging to him.

"How do you like my watchdog?" he would brag to strangers passing by the cage. "Best lion this side of Africa. I'm teaching him to do tricks. Would you like to see him sit up and beg for a biscuit?"

Yet the man would still exist only by the tolerance of the lion, which could at any moment pounce upon him and bash his head in just out of plain curiosity, or as a morning exercise.

The average American today has reached the point where he treats the hydrogen bomb as if it were that lion. He has lived with fear too long to be afraid anymore.

Can you remember how you felt in the first years of the atomic era, so brief a time ago? There was a great wave of disillusionment and despair, a hopeless this-in-the-end feeling among many.

PEOPLE HAD nightmares about the atom bomb. Children caught the fever of fear from their parents. No one knows how many people moved from the cities to rural areas in the search for a place safe from atomic attack. For a time some even stored food in their motor cars, so that whatever happened in an emergency they at least could meet it with a full stomach.

But the atom bomb then was really only a lion cub. Now we are living with a rapidly maturing lion—the hydrogen bomb.

The first time they try it out it blows up an entire island. Word of this leaks out so gradually that the residents of Manhattan, which is an island also, are only vaguely impressed. The island that the bomb caused to disappear was, after all, far away in the Pacific and nobody ever heard of it anyway.

Last week they set off a hydrogen bomb 750 times as powerful as the bomb that destroyed Hiroshima, but it is still merely a bomb for dwarfs. It has only the explosive force of 15 million tons of TNT. The one that packs the muscle of 45 to 50 millions tons of TNT—history's biggest firecracker—won't be ready for testing until next month.

ONE WOULD think these ominous explosions would startle the world, force all the races and nations of the world to forget their differences in a mutual grab for peace.

Such is hardly the case. The hydrogen bomb may have torn mile-long crevices in the ocean floor, but it seems to have created only a ripple of public interest.

The terror weapon no longer terrifies a generation that has grown up in the shadow of fear. People are awed by the power of the hydrogen bomb. Some respect it, some even admire it for its power, but few any longer seem to be actively afraid of it.

It is the lion in the cage of our time, and we take it for granted, because it is a fact of our lives and we must live with it. But commonsense tells us we cannot make a lion a watchdog—nor can we put our faith in a firecracker.
